

SNIS/Joint Cerebrovascular Section
Fellows Course

SPONSORSHIP PROSPECTUS

July 17-18, 2025

Music City Center
Nashville, Tennessee

The annual SNIS/Joint Cerebrovascular Section Fellows Course offers unmatched opportunities for the next generation of neurointerventionalists. Following the SNIS 22nd Annual Meeting in Nashville, Tennessee, this year's attendees will observe the latest advances in the field, learn more about treatment innovations from experienced colleagues, and network with peers and industry partners like you.

Why support the Fellows Course? Dozens of physicians will participate in a wide-range of trainings related to neurointervention, including workshops, presentations, Q&As, and discussion panels, all while ensuring unique visibility opportunities for your organization.

Back by popular demand, the Advanced Practice Providers (APP) track is available for both the hands-on workshops and the didactic sessions. This will provide sponsors a chance to showcase their devices in simulated treatment scenarios, while detailing the advantages and innovations of their products – those current and in development.

Join us in Tennessee this July to build relationships with budding providers and peers, and collaborate around ideas, solutions and best practices that lead to the highest quality of care for patients.

Thank you for your ongoing dedication and commitment to SNIS, its members, their patients and the field!
